'Kid Porn' ... A New Industry

I trust the United Press International will indulge me the theft of a few lines of its May 25 Washington Wire to show how our lawmakers stick their head in the sand when the issue of "kid porn" is on the docket.

The story on the wire concerned a hearing before a House of Representatives subcommittee on pornography.

Testifying was Dr. Judianne Densen-Gerber, who heads a center called Odyssey House. It is for young drug addicts in New York.

Hearing her were Representatives Allen Ertel, D-Pa., a former prosecutor, and John Conyers, D-Mich. The hearing was conducted in the presence of television cameras.

Densen-Gerber "waved magazine called 'Lolliots' and 'Baby Dolls' and used "dirty talk common with child porn publications," the committee complained.

She pleaded with the subcommittee to produce legislation to stop the traffic in "kid porn" saying that the minds and bodies of "millions of children are in balance."

In her presentation she used the gutter language that adorns some of the covers of the slick publication. One, she said, "Family F..." was purchased by her 17-year old daughter.

Her presentation upset the subcommittee more than the child porn appeared to do. Rep. Ertel was offended by her presentation. I don't see why. The magazines are far more offensive, vulgar and pernicious.

Said Ertel, "We've listened to your litany and watched you wave your magazines in front of the cameras. Don't you think you've been a little counter-productive?"

Counter-productive to what? To the congressmen's finer sensibilities? Instead of jumping on Densen-Gerber, he should be shouting and stomping about the distribution of the magazines with which she was attempting to attract his attention.

Conyers offered some watery criticism, too. "It serves no purpose to show the magazines. (It doesn't?) Please try to restrict your comments to the merits or demerits of the legislation," he demanded. It is amazing that he became incensed with the witness instead of the pornography she was using as an example.

Children who pose for porn are not the only ones who are demeaned and injured. Densen-Gerber insisted that "children whose parents read these publications and act out their fantasies" are the real victims.

"No First Amendment good is done by telling a man to go home and have intercourse with his 9-year old daughter," she charged.

The subcommittee is studying legislation to outlaw books, photos and films of sexual acts involving children under 16. Densen-Gerber said more than a million children are involved in pornography and prostitution and 264 hard-core magazines use children as models.

The subcommittee's stupidity shows through its conduct of the conference. It resists facing facts as have too many people who could have resisted the kid porn grown rampant by their apathy.

Failure to meet it head-on has caused the issue to be a frightfully sinister element of our sub-culture. The subcommittee discourages frankness and facts of those they question.

Meanwhile, in San Diego, only days ago, the California Dept. of Justice conducted a 5-week seminar on Investigation and Prosecution of Organized Crime and Pornography. The emphasis was on the child as a pornographic victim.

Interestingly, during the tail end of the seminar, the TV program "60 Minutes" had a lengthy segment on the traffic of kid porno. It was distressing and chilling.

During the same period sheriff's deputies arrested a 28-year old East County man who became the horrible example of the fall-out of kid porno.

He was charged with sex molestation of his 12-year old stepdaughter. His record showed that he had also sexually molested a 7-year old stepdaughter during a previous marriage and had once been charged with molesting his own sister.

He told officers that he purchased child porno mags and showed them to his step children. He told them it's OK. "They do it. It won't hurt you."

The insidious part is in that dialog, an officer said. Such material is used to prove that it is all right — especially if the male is a relative. A young mind finds it hard to refute what is proven in pictures in a magazine.

Such magazines are readily available but with some of the heat on, you have to ask for them.

Moreover, it can be proved that organized crime is the distributing agent for the filth in which young innocents are demeaned. Nothing in the First Amendment suggests that the freedom to read or write material included the right to encourage incest!

The test for porno must have been prepared with only adults in mind. And it is believed that child porno began to burgeon with the advent of the drug culture.

The test: Is it utterly without redeeming social value? "Redeeming" has been changed to "serious" in a Supreme Court decision but it is not yet used in California.

Is it beyond contemporary community standards? That means that a book writer can load his pages with filth, then, somewhere, acknowledge that the characters he had uttering the filth were dirty-minded and shouldn't have done it.

Is there money in porno? You bet your life! The Dept. of Justice seminar gave these figures: In Los Angeles in 1969 readers paid $15 million for the filth. In 1975 sales topped $85 million. Magazines which cost distributors 20 cents sell for $10. Films costing $2 bring $20. That's a heap of profit! No wonder it has attracted those associated with organized crime.

A Dept. of Justice seminar under way this week in Los Angeles produced another repulsive element involving porno. Young men, in their early teens, many as young as 13, are now selling themselves for sexual acts committed in front of cameras.

Many of these youngsters are runaways. Many of them have not fully developed a strong character and are easy prey for those who offer easy money.

There should be no haggling about child porno. Distributors should be jailed. They can go to trial later.

Sups Penurious Budget Gives Thin Coverage

John Duffy is appearing before the Board of Supervisors today to explain some of the law enforcement problems facing the citizens served by the Sheriff's Department.

The Sheriff is pointing out that, crimes of violence in San Diego County, including homicide, robbery, rape and assault, have increased 96% since 1970. He also notes that population is increasing and that budgetary restraints restrict the number of deputy sheriffs needed to provide police protection.

Duffy points out that the limited number of deputies engaged primarily in law enforcement continues to give citizens in the unincorporated areas one of the thinnest lines of protection in the state.

Judge Rules In Favor Of Sweetwater Developer

Superior Court Judge Jack Levitt ruled last Friday the County Board of Supervisors were within their powers to rezone land around the Sweetwater Reservoir for a housing development.

Acting on a suit brought by the Concerned Citizens of Spring Valley, a group which formed last January to fight the reclassification, the Judge said the Board of Supervisors acted within their powers to make the zoning switch.

The case stemmed from a decision made by the Supervisors last December to allow Vista del Lago Estates to build a development on 34½ acres on the north side of Sweetwater Reservoir land.

Previously the land around the Reservoir had been set aside for a regional park.

William Shearer, attorney for Vista del Lago Estates, said the county did not have the funds to develop the area into a park and it is policy to release to the owners the right to do what ever they please with their property.

"The Concerned Citizens had argued at the time the Board of Supervisors made the decision to rezone Sweetwater Reservoir, the area was included in regional plan as the Sweetwater Regional Park," Shearer explained.

"But the county did not have the funds to develop the area. When they don't have the funds, it is policy to release the area to the owners to use it as they see fit."

"You can't put an area in a plan as a regional park and Continued on Page 5

Rita Garcia is 'Fairest' 'Charlie' is Runner-Up

Dita Garcia, 19, who less than a month ago won the Miss East San Diego crown, claimed a second major victory Sunday night when she was named Fairest of the Fair over 25 other area finalists. She will reign over the 88th annual S. Cal. Erpo at Del Mar, June 21-July 4, along with Spanish film actor Tommy Hernandez who plays the role of Don Diego.

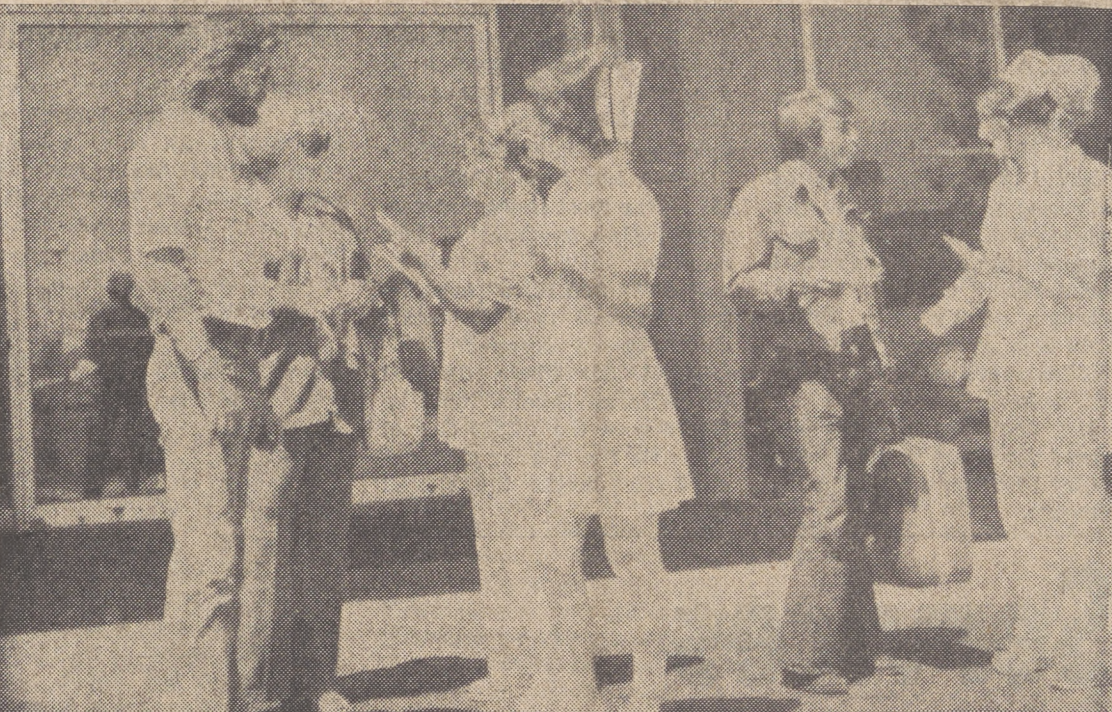

The Fairest of the Fair is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Garcia. She has green eyes, brown hair, is 5' 5" tall and weighs 109 pounds.

Terrie Lou Brown, 18, El Cajon, finished second; Charlotte "Charlie" Gunderson, 19, Lemon Grove, was third and Betty Ann Kugima was fourth.

The Fairest of the Fair has an intriguing recipe for beauty. She says, "Choose the kind of beauty you are going to communicate with today. Cancel all thoughts from your mind. Do not name or describe or classify. Make no reference to other beauties of the past or future. Simply receive beauty as it is."

Her ambition is to become a flight attendant on an international airline due to her bilingual abilities.

PROTESTING NURSES — Groups of nurses at the evening shift of Grossmont Hospital passed out literature last Wednesday as a protest to the Board of Trustee decision to deny them a shift pay increase.

12½ Cent Hike Denied

Grossmont Evening Nurses Protest Hospital Trustee Denial of Shift Pay

Nurses from the P.M. shift of Grossmont Hospital came in early last Wednesday to pass out literature in protest of a Board of Trustee decision to deny them a 12½ cent shift differential.

About twenty nurses, all members of the United Nurses of California, gathered at the front door of Grossmont Hospital at about 1 p.m. to show their disdain for the Board's decision.

According to Mrs. Gay Muhich, a registered nurse and the secretary of the United Nurses group, the Board awarded May 18 a shift raise of 20 cents to the night nurses but denied the 12½ cent raise to the 3-11:30 p.m. group.

"Up to about seven years ago, in 1970, we had a shift differential," said Mrs. Muhich, "but they took it away. We contend that the personal sacrifices we make to work this shift should at least merit the 12½ cent increase."

Mrs. Muhich contended the hospital had been hiring temporary nurses from San Diego employment agencies to fill in the gaps in the shift and said she believed the highest turnover of nurses was in the P.M. shift.

"With these temporary people filling in the breaks its hard on staffing," she continued. "These temporary people don't know where things are and have to be trained."

"The patients expect the same nurse to come in to check on them," she added, "it gives them a sense of security."

CoC Board Takes No Action On Railway Abandonment

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce board of directors heard William R. Daly, head of a transportation consulting firm in La Mesa, urge the group Thursday to fight the proposed abandonment of the San Diego and Arizona Eastern railway. The railway route was severely damaged earlier this year by storms and has not been operating since.

"It's operation is important to the economic stability and vitality of communities it serves," he said.

Daley is gathering and dispersing information for the Traffic Managers Conference of California and for Supervisor Lucille Moore's Task Force comprised of members representing various San Diego cities and the County.

"Some of the warehouses in the east county will have to close and many jobs will be lost if SD&AE is abandoned," Daly said.

What is a City?

Here is more on the makeup of a city from the "Handbook For New Council Members" written by Charles Martin for the League of California Cities.

SALES TAX

The most significant source of income for most California cities is the Sales Tax. Heavy commercial and industrial uses in a city sometimes permit use of the sales tax to partially or even completely replace the property tax as the primary means of revenue.

Sales taxes in California are essentially uniform at 6 or 6½ per cent. Of this, most is for state and public transportation purposes; only 1 per cent is returned to the individual cities. Here again, cities have found it economical to permit another level of government to collect this tax for them.

The state does this for all cities, remitting the collections after having deducted the collection costs.

This is an example of one level of government using the pre-existing organized machinery of another level to avoid duplication wherever possible.

From time to time special supplemental taxes are imposed by the state for limited purposes.

UTILITIES

Many cities provide municipal utility service in the form of water and power. The rates charged are not subject to the Public Utilities Commission and in some can be operated at a profit.

UTILITY FRANCHISES

Each city has one or more public utilities desirous of operating within the city limits. Examples of these are your local gas and electric companies.

It has been customary that public utilities pay a franchise tax to the city normally calculated at a certain percentage of their annual sales within the city.

While not providing a major source of revenue, it is an important one and is paid by the utility company in exchange for the right to exclusively serve the citizens in that particular area.

This franchise is granted by the city council and is usually made on a very long term basis.

Because they pay a franchise tax, utilities are usually excluded from the requirement that the pay a business license fee.

Worried About A Career

Q. I'm a 17-year-old male student and have been troubled about what I'm going to do for a career after high school. I'm in my junior year and have been troubled about it for a long time. What can I do to help me realize what I want to do and help me stop worrying about it?

A. Worrying about your future career will, of course, produce no future career.

Make an appointment with your school guidance counselor and ask for information and suggestions. Take a piece of paper and pencil and write in order of preference everything you think you would like to do.

Turn the paper over and make a list of the things you can do the best, those for which you seem to have the most aptitude. Put the number ones together and you have probably got your indicated career.

We have a booklet, AFTER THE TASSEL IS MOVED, which has helped others with question such as yours, and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone reading this column who wishes a free copy may write for one. Address your request to Dr. and Mrs. Peale, Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Teeth

Q. I have always gritted my teeth but the last few years it seems like I clench them together all night. I am miserable when I wake up! My body feels too tight.

There just has to be an answer to this. I'm 30 years old and at the point of asking when do I begin getting over this?

A. While a dentist and doctor might give you proper advice for your trouble, it seems quite obvious that you are suffering from tension and frustration. These two problems are taking it out on you in the form of teeth gritting and body tension.

Our advice is to give your mind a healing spiritual treatment, for physical ailments sometimes result from unhealthy thinking. One way to do that is to study the Bible for statements about peace of mind. Then memorize them, allowing them to soak into your consciousness.

A Bible passage mentioned in our booklet, YOU CAN RELAX, may be helpful. It is "My peace I give unto you" (John 14:27). A copy of the booklet is on its way to you. Anyone reading this column who wishes a free copy may write for one. Address your request to Dr. and Mrs. Peale, Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

S.V. Church Hosts County Blood Mobile

The San Diego Blood Bank's "Crisis Mobile" will be at the Spring Valley Latter Day Saints Church, 8472 Blossom lane, from 8 a.m. to noon.

The "crisis mobile" concept came from the usual lack of blood donors which occurs during holidays throughout the summer. Blood usage also increases during these periods which reduced greatly the available reserves of blood.

The Latter Day Saints Churches in San Diego County are sponsoring several of the mobiles around the county throughout the summer.

LIFESAVER — This is the Spring Valley Fire Protection District's new paramedic ambulance. Staff has completed training and go to work officially on July 1. Men and equipment will be on display Saturday and Sunday.

S.V. Paramedics Ready to Start

The Spring Valley Fire Protection District jumps into the paramedic business with all four wheels on July 1.

Mobile equipment, electronic gear and trained personnel are ready. When the new fiscal year arrives in about 30 days the new, added concept of life saving will go into operation at 8 a.m.

A pre-view of the equipment and the program will be on display Saturday and Sunday at two different places.

Saturday, the complete paramedic ambulance, crew and all medical and electronic/communications gear will be demonstrated on the Food Basket parking lot in Casa de Oro 12 a.m.-4 p.m.

On Sunday it moves to the S.V. Shopping Center parking lot at Jamacha Blvd. and Sweetwater rd. 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Crew members will have completed training and will demonstrate paramedic techniques as well as sophisticated electronic-radio systems by which physicians at Grossmont hospital can monitor the patient and carry on a two-way radio communications with the paramedics.

Paramedic crews, a spokesman said, will also serve the regular fire fighting program when not on actual emergency duty. Employees of the SVPFD voluntarily filled in for off-duty paramedics trainees without getting time and a half pay. This resulted in a savings of $11,000 in payroll.

Specialized medical and electronic equipment and the ambulance were acquired through federal grant funds without direct cost to the district's tax base. $15,000 was spent on training. The S.V. Kiwanis club enlisted a group of local citizens through which unfunded amounts may be raised through public subscription.

Graduation ceremonies will be held for 7 Spring Valley mobile intensive care paramedics in the auditorium of Stn Diego Gas and Electric Company Friday, at 1. Also honored will be three mobile intensive care nurses from Grossmont Hospital.

Certification of the Spring Valley firefighters will enable a new paramedic program for residents of the Spring Valley Fire Protection District to begin July 1.

The paramedics are specially trained to provide emergency medical treatment at the scene of a medical emergency to stabilize a victim's condition before transport to the hospital. Treatment includes the administration of drugs and intravenous fluids and the application of electric current to a victim's chest to restart or regulate heartbeat.

Spring Valley paramedics to be certified are: Mike Buss, Steve Perry, Terry Roberts, Phil Silva, Robin Smith, and Bryan Waddington.

S.V. Women Install Officers Wednesday

A special inaugural luncheon for 1977-78 officers-elect of the Spring Valley Woman's Club will be held at Sexton's Steak House in La Mesa June 8.

Salad Dressing Firm Rapped on Advertising

Department of Consumer Affairs Director Richard B. Spohn announced this week that Thomas J. Lipton, Inc., of Englewood Cliffs, N.J., has agreed to discontinue use of a newspaper advertisement which appeared in the food section of major newspapers in California during March 1977.

The advertisement in question stated: Wishbone Italian Salad Dressing is America's first bottled Italian salad dressing," and "Wishbone has been America's best selling Italian salad dressing for 27 years."

In response to the Department's Advertisement Substantiation Unit's request that the company substantiate its statement, Lipton indicated that it could offer proof that Wishbone Italian Dressing has been a best seller for 15 years but not 27 as claimed in the advertisement. They offered substantiation for the claim that Wishbone is America's first bottled Italian salad dressing.

Spohn said, "Lipton's may have just the right combination of selected herbs and spices in its Italian dressing, but when it comes to advertising, the oil and vinegar just don't mix."

"The food industry must realize the special impact that advertising has on the consumer and make sure that its claims are factual and can be substantiated as required by law."

Shakespeare Festival Offers 5 Productions

The oldest continuing professional Shakespeare repertory company in the U. S. is under way at the Old Globe Theatre.

The 28th San Diego National Shakespeare Festival features five different stage productions plus a series of 12 Shakespearean films. The 15-week festival season will continue through September 11. Craig Noel is producing director of the Old Globe Theatre.

"Hamlet," one of the great tragedies in world dramatic literature, inaugurates the Festival. Jack O'Brien directs the popular play with Mark Lamos in the title role.

The robust comedy "The Taming of the Shrew" begins the repertory on June 7. Laird Williamson directs his first production for the Old Globe with Daniel J. Travanti as Petruchio and Maureen Anderson as Katherine.

A tragedy not previously produced here opens July 6 to conclude the Shakespeare repertory, "Timon of Athens".

Director is Eric Christman. Richard Kneland portrays the title role.

Adjacent to the Old Globe on the Carter Centre Stage "Charley's Aunt" opens June 21. The Brandon Thomas Victorian farce will complement the classical Shakespeare at the Old Globe Theatre. Director is Wagner Bryan.

Two comic operas will be staged on three consecutive Monday evenings in August in conjunction with the Festival. Gian Carlo Menotti's "Amelia Goes to the Ball" and "The Bear" by William Walton will be August 15, 22 and 29 at Old Globe.

An innovation is a Shakespeare Film Festival. 12 films will be shown June 31 September 5 in a repertory schedule at the Ken Cinema at 2 p.m. Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays. Films include "Much Ado About Nothing," "MacBeth," "Hamlet," "Othello," "Falstaff," "Richard III," "King Lear," "Romeo and Juliet," "Henry V," "Julius Caesar," "Ages of Man" and "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Queen Elizabeth I the central personality during the Festival Revels, performs at 7:45 p.m. each evening. Music and dance from the Elizabethan period are staged on the greensward fronting Old Globe amid brightly decorative flags and heraldic banners.

Old Globe Theatre is a functioning replica of the original Globe Playhouse in London where many plays of Shakespeare were originally presented in the first decade of the 17th century. It was constructed in 1935 for the Calif. Exposition.

Performances of Shakespeare Festival are scheduled nightly except Monday at 8:30 p.m. plus Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday matinees at 2. "Charley's Aunt" at Carter has the same schedule except no Wednesday matinees are planned.

Telepathy Meet Hosts Geller, Astronaut

A two day seminar on mental telepathy and expanded mental powers this weekend in the San Diego Civic Theatre will feature Israeli psychic Uri Geller, Apollo 14 astronaut Edgar Mitchell and flutist Paul Horn.

Highlight of the two day event sponsored by the Health Awareness Institute, will include Geller's presentation "Connecting Mind and Matter". Geller is one of the world's most controversial psychics with his displays of bending spoons by mental telepathy. He does basic watch repairs by using mental energy alone.

Captain Edgar D. Mitchell, sixth man on the moon, describes his experience in space this way: "Something happened to me during the flight that I didn't even recognize at the time. I would say it was an altered state of consciousness, a peak experience."

Paul Horn is a flutist who plays "mind" music. Cost of the seminar is $35 for students, seniors, and military; $45 for average incomes; and $55 for "well-done" incomes.

The program starts 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Registration is by calling 234-1696.

Two Weeks of Travel To Test New Manager

The San Diego Padres break into the 3rd month of the 1977 season on the road as the club gets set for the middle portion of a grueling 14-game run of away contests with matchups scheduled at Los Angeles and St. Louis. The two clubs will meet in single games Friday-Saturday-Sunday. From Los Angeles, the Padres head East to take on the St. Louis Cardinals Monday through Wednesday, June 6-8 in the first meeting of the year between the 2 clubs. The Pads have an open date on June 9.

The Bel Air, final springboard to the $350,000 Gold Cup, slated two weeks later, caps an outstanding week of racing at the Inglewood track, that also will feature the $25,000 Junior League Stakes today and the $50,000 Milady Handicap Saturday.

Cascades Test Friars Tonight at S.D. Arena

The last time Rod Laver faced Tom Gorman, the San Diego Friar star won in a romp, 6-1. But the Sea-Port Cascades won in overtime, 26-23.

When the two teams meet tonight at 7:30 in the Sports Arena, the appreciation that one set does not make a WTT victory — or defeat — will be much on Friar players' minds.

It's also Ladies Night, with all women admitted for half-price to loge and terrace seats. And Converse will provide all persons in attendance with certificates worth up to $6 on new sneakers.

"Sea-Port is a good example of what it takes to win in WTT," Laver said. "The team has no super stars but each player is solid and manes a solid contribution. Consistently high-level performance throughout the lineup is the key to success in this league."

Sea-Port won eight of its first 11 matches on just that formula. But the Friars, who have shown major signs of their own resurgence, on a player-by-player basis figure to be stronger.

BLAZE OF GLORY — Bobby Allison finished in flames at Riverside in a January race. He was unhurt. He returns Sunday to

Richard Petty, Popularity Champion' at Riverside 400

RIVERSIDE — Racing preparations are just as feverish in a family room in Northridge and a fourth grade art class in Torrance this week as they are in the racing shops and corner garages where more than 100 cars are being prepared for the NAPA Riverside 400 Saturday and Sunday.

The fans have to get ready too. They have their "Go Petty" signs to paint.

The semi-annual visit of Richard Petty to Riverside International Raceway is of no little moment to the faithful.

Although they get to see him race only in January and June on the road course, the Petty Fan Club has grown to nearly 1,000 in membership locally, and that's just the hard core.

The most popular stock car driver of all time may be one of the most beloved of all America's sports heroes today. He didn't get there on statistics alone, but the numbers are impressive. Going into the recent Charlotte World 600 he had won 182 Winston Cup races and was well on his way toward the $3 million mark in winnings.

Observers say Petty's popularity is rooted in two things: One, he always tries hard on the race track, never slowing down whether he is leading or running 10 laps behind. Two, he is one of the friendliest and unpretentious men in sports.

On those rare occasions when he has been forced out of a race in the early laps, Petty has often been found sitting in the middle of a crowd of fans, signing autographs for them and answering their questions until the drop of a checkered flag.

turn his luck around in the NAPA Riverside 500.

"The way I figure it," says the driver of the STP Dodge, "them cats came out here to see me race. Not just me, you know what I mean? But, as long as they're here, I ought to give 'em somethin' they come for."

One weekend here, Petty lectured to a class on stock car racing at UC Riverside. It was a survey course to familiarize fans with what goes on behind the scenes. It wound up being a solid two hours of questions and answers, interspersed with Petty's rural humor and that incandescent smile.

Last fall Petty opened his shops at Level Cross, N.C., to visitors who paid $2 to a local charity for the privilege of touring his racing complex. Petty stood and talked, shook hands, gave out decals and signed autographs for 12 hours straight, as a total of 15,000 fans passed through.

Petty isn't even the favorite to win the week-end 400-kilometer race here, despite his two previous June victories.

The hot hand for 1977 has been dealt to reigning champion Cale Yarborough in the Holly Farms Chevrolet, which has won half this season's races to date.

Defending champion is David Pearson in the Purlator Mercury. Pearson, in fact, has a string of three straight Riverside wins going for him, including two Winston 500s.

The NAPA Riverside 400 is the climax of a weekend of speed that includes a new race, the Black Gold 200 for NASCAR modified stock cars, and Black Gold's California 150 for NASCAR sportsman stock cars.

SV's McIntyre Lengthens Lead; First With Twin Win at Cajon

Pat McIntyre last Saturday night became the first super stock car driver to win two features this year at Cajon Speedway and he did it in the coveted 75-lap Bill Spencer Memorial, main event before 4,327 fans.

The Spring Valley carpenter made his way to the front quickly, took the lead on the 16th lap and after the red flag was lifted, never had any trouble reaching the checkered flag.

He covered the distance in his sleek convertible Camaro in 23 minutes, 52.05 seconds, beating Ralph Dineen of Blossom Valley to the wire by about 6 car lengths.

The program was filled with accidents and rookie George Burnett of Poway was taken to the hospital with possible neck injuries following a three-car accident in the north corner in the consolation race. The consolation was won by Tom Hicks of Jamul.

McIntyre came close to failing to complete his 1st main of the season when he and Dineen skidded out of control and each was tagged by another car. However, damage was slight.

Aztec Golfers In NCAA T-Play

Hoping to make up for a disappointing 3rd place finish in the PCAA championships, S.D. State U's golf team heads east to New York for next week's NCAA Championship. Seven Oaks Golf Course in Hamilton, New York is the site for the event, which is hosted by Colgate U.

The four day tournament runs Wednesday through Saturday, with 18 holes scheduled each day. The best four 72 hole scores will count towards the team scores in the championship.

The Aztecs, who finished 18th in last year's championship, will be represented by five golfers. Leading the charge is senior Terry Raymer, a model of consistency who was the top Aztec at the PCAA's, capturing fourth place with a 36 hole total of 147.

Following Raymer is the PCAA seventh place finisher, sophomore Gerry Simoni. Rounding out the Aztec team are juniors Curt Worley and Wayne Searle, and sophomore Lennie Clements.

And Mutton, Too

One of the world's leading producers of wool, Uruguay has from 20 to 25 million sheep.

heats, a 10-lap consolation and a 20-lap semi-main event.

Billy Harrell, who serves as the official starter, will hop back behind the wheel to see if he can capture his 2nd straight old-timers race. Vance Butler and Gil Stephens, who were 2nd and 3rd, also will be back.

Other early entries include Rueben Carballido and Carl Adams, the latter a former Grand National West rookie of the year.

Weekly Schedule For Bike Racing In Balboa Park

The eight-man twilight racing series will feature some of the finest racing cyclists in the country. Events will then be held every Wednesday evening from 6 until 8 p.m. through July 27.

Among the better known riders scheduled to compete are Xavier Mirander, Ron Skarin and Andy Bell. Mirander is present Far West Sprint Champion. He was Caribbean Game's Sprint Champion and in the top 10 in the World Sprint Championship several times. He also competed in the Canadian Olympics.

Skarin has represented the U.S. on two Olympic teams. He is current 10-mile Track National Champion and past National Pursuit Champion. Skarin is probably the finest all around rider in the U.S., according to John Butterfield, General Chairman of the events.

The third rider, Andy Bell, is National Intermediate Champion.

Fourteen races will be given each night on the 333 1/3 meter track. The feature event will be a 30 lap, 10 km Senior Point race. Shorter races will be run around three laps or 1 km.

Hegemon Lewis' Protege Wins; NA Title Booked for Coliseum

Bantamweight Mike Stuart, 116, of L.A. won a TKO over Mexicali's Raul Pacheco, 116, in a hard-fought scrap scheduled for 10 rounds at the Coliseum Friday night. It ended 40 seconds into the 8th round with referee Dr. James H. Jen

Kin, calling it off with Pacheco was still standing but unable to defend himself. Stuart, protege of welterweight Hegemon Lewis, was named "1976 Fighter of the Year" by L.A. sportswriters. In a co-feature, lightweight Danny Brewer of Perris, 175, KO'd Pete McIntyre of L.A., 176 in the 8th round of a companion 10-round.

Miguel Ruiz of Tijuana, 132 won on a TKO over Danilo O'Campo of Guadalajara at 1:08 of round 6. It was scheduled for 6.

In 4-round lightweight scrap, Scipio Stubbs of L.A., 137, won a unanimous decision over Guillermo Gonzalez.

The next card by promoter Danny Millsap, will be June 10 and that card is nearly filled. On it will possibly be a major batter... a former world lightweight champ who will probably sign a contract before next week.

Also on that card will be young Spud Murphy making his pro debut and Enrique Schon, a Mexican heavyweight.

Awards were made also to John Kowalczyk, Bruce Binkowski, Louise Thistle, Emerson Morris, Glenda Jackson and Jack-in-the Box.

Dewars Sports Celebrity Tourney to Draw 32 Stars

It may be that Iz Becker is the biggest star of them all.

Who else but that indomitable tournament chairman of Dewars Sports Celebrity Tennis Tournament could put together a card of the world's elite athletes 7 years in a row?

What's more, he makes it one of the more enjoyable affairs the press attends. And the fans love it, too. Where else, this side of teevee, can fans see so many important athletes than at the Dewars?

It has distinction and grace not usually associated with a gathering of VIPs anywhere else.

The 1977 edition of the Dewars will be at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas June 6-9 and it is suspected that a number of San Diegans will be in the stands at service time.

For added Beckerabilia, let it be known that Iz became distressed when his tourney attracted more top athletes than the Riviera could accommodate. So he built two more there at his own expense. Now, 32 athletes can compete which gives him great delight and satisfaction, especially with this year's caliber of athletes.

Starting Monday, here are some of the names that will grace the Riviera courts:

Hank Greenberg (Hall of Fame)
- Football
George Atkinson (Raiders)
Fred Biletnikoff (Raiders)
Lynn Swan (Steelers)

Decision Lands Referee in Match

Tuesday night at the S.D. Coliseum, when wrestler Roddy Piper (who has a referee's license) was the official in the ring, his tag-team decision involving the Guerrero brothers was so bizarre that "all heck broke loose in the ring."

Disagreements such as these are easily settled in the grunt-and-groan world so the National Wrestling Alliance ordered Piper to appear as one of the wrestlers in Tuesday's tag-team confrontation.

Therefore, Tuesday night, Roddy Piper joins Bull Ramos in an attack on the Guerrero brothers—Chavo and Armando. The vaunted official, Leo Garibaldi, will be the referee.

In one-fall matches, Black Gordman (white) will grapple with the black superstar Tom Jones. The Great Goliath faces the Hangman, and Gorgeous Keith tangles with Tank Patton.

Discounts are offered juniors, seniors and military.

Disagreements start at 7:30. The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts.

Supers, Street Stocks And Motorcycles at SB

Action continues on the banked dirt quartermile at South Bay Park Speedway as the super and street stock drivers prepare for another highly-contested doubleheader Friday night.

Gates open at 6 p.m., time trials for the super stocks begin at 7 and the first race gets underway at 8:15 p.m.

Last week, Spring Valley's Ted Kallos, a frequent main eventer at Cajon Speedway managed to hold off John Cartwright, also of Spring Valley, and John Silvas of National City in a duel that lasted for the full 30 laps.

On Saturday, motorcycles race on the smooth, swift quarter mile oval. Gates will open at 5:30 p.m. and the first event will begin at 8 p.m.

The sporting stars of the past—Sal Peluso of San Diego, Earl Roloff Jr. of Spring Valley, Larry Collie of Crest and Kevin Stafford of San Diego—are expected to lead a host of entries, according to promoter Don Basile.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

John Francis McNamara is gone. Gentle John was fired as manager of the San Diego Padres last week, not so much for what he had been doing, but mostly because of what 25 other men didn't do.

And then there was the accompanying publicity. No one lives more in a fish bowl than the mentor of a sports team. When they win everybody loves them and the world is good. But let them falter and the world turns ugly around them, faith and trust are gone and they are rejected from the company of man. It can be a terrible fate.

Yet, it is pure baseballese that any man who would manage a major league club must also expect to be fired. It's part of the job. You must win to stay employed. In fact, a number of managers have won pennants and still lost their jobs, because in the eyes of club owners more was expected.

One does not have to scratch the surface too deeply to discover that baseball is a funny business. Strange things can happen. Whim can supersede knowledge and ability.

It was Ray Kroc's whim that fire John McNamara. That and a newspaper story. And there was nothing E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, Padre president, could do about either.

Ray Kroc is in his mid-70's and wants a winner now. He is a multi-millionaire who pleased himself with buying the Padres and would pamper himself by making it a winner. And, as he says, "How much time have I got, anyway?"

It is no wonder that Kroc takes a personal interest in the goings on of his team, but one would expect that a man of his background would let professionals in the business of the game, make baseball decisions. He took the reins himself in the firing of John McNamara.

Kroc, of course, had the final say in the hiring of Alvin Dark, but that is another story and should be saved for another time.

It would do well here to point out that Dark inherited a team devoid of a pitching staff, with limited left-handed batting and rookies up the middle. This is a "building" season for the Padres, who need a manager with patience and understanding.

They had one in John McNamara. Unfortunately, the Padres do not have an owner blessed with the same qualities. In all fairness, however, it should be said the new manager is a patient and understanding man. The Padres should do well under him.

But they could have done equally well under the man they fired. No one had more respect or admiration from others in the game than the former Padre mentor. He was and is a baseball man. He never left undone anything that should have been completed, or gave less than full effort in the cause of his employment.

In the end, it was a newspaper story that tipped the scale from under him.

It wasn't done in the best reporting sense. It didn't inform or educate or make you laugh. It was a trite attention grabber in the Evening Tribune made up in the form of a ballot and asking the reader to "vote" for the Padre principal most to blame for the team's poor showing.

Then there was a story about how Kroc was disenchanted with McNamara and how Buzzie was working to save his manager's job.

That was the straw that broke it. Kroc reportedly waved the story at Buzzie and told him to let John go. "You've talked me out of it long enough," Kroc said. "This time he goes."

An impatient owner and a shoddy piece of journalism fired a fine man. But it's part of the game. We all certainly wish John McNamara well in what ever he attempts.

And welcome Alvin Dark. We still have the same impatient owner and glib newspapers. Just consider them "part of the game."

to the individual citizen, Duffy will point out that the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley master beat, an area of 12 square miles and a population of about 50,000 people, has an average of 2.5 patrol cars during the day, and five units during the evening and night.

The area had an increase of 8.8% in calls for service last year, but an increase of 63.9% in the number of priority calls. Thefts in Lemon Grove-Spring Valley increased 12.2% during the same period.

"By using different staffing patterns in utilizing the limited resources we have, we have been able to decrease the response time for priority calls from an average of 7.5 minutes to 6.5 minutes, but that's still far below the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and O'Gals' established time of four minutes, he notes.

Also on the positive side

Duffy notes commercial burglaries in the area have been significantly reduced during the past year.

Things are worse in the adjoining 82-square-mile beat which includes Casa de Oro and Mt. Helix and more than 40,000 people. That area has one patrol car in the daytime, two in the evening and one at night.

The Sheriff is asking for the men and equipment to add another unit to this area and reduce the priority response time from an average of 10.5 minutes.

The County Administrator, acting under direction of the Board of Supervisors, is recommending no additional staffing for patrol deputies and detectives.

Van Moves 2nd Crossing Closer With June Meet

A second border entrance moved nearer reality this week with the disclosure, by Rep. Lionel V. An Derlin, D-LG-SV, that U.S. and Mexican officials will meet this month for the first time in three years to discuss details of the project.

But even if the two governments agree on a location plan and other specifics for the proposal, financing a highway to connect with the new crossing will remain a problem, Van Deerlin pointed out.

The sessions are tentatively set for El Paso, sometime in June.

The United States will be represented by Arthur Barton, San Francisco-based regional building commissioner for the General Services Adm., the federal housekeeping agency. Mexico will send Raul Diego Aguilar Mejia, promotion director for the counterpart Mexican agency, from Mexico City. They will discuss a variety of border construction concerns in addition to the second entrance.

U. S. authorities have been trying to set up such a conference since Jose Lopez Portillo took over as President of Mexico in December. Aguilar, who will be doing most of the negotiating for Mexico, was only recently installed in his office, Van Deerlin was told.

"These talks should mark a distinct step forward for the second entrance, which would do much to alleviate congestion in San Ysidro," Van Deerlin said.

Local Aid Needed

He said that while federal funds could be used in building a suitable road to the next crossing, state and local governments will have to make the initial commitments. "The federal government doesn't say where roads should go, and Congress cannot earmark funds for specific highway projects," he explained, "but qualifying projects of course are eligible for federal aid."

Location of the new entrance could either be at the foot of Harvest road, on Otay Mesa, or at a point 2.08 miles to the east. When officials of the two countries last discussed the matter, in 1974, the Mexicans expressed a preference for the more easterly location, next to an industrial park development.

Van Deerlin said the GSA wants flexibility in locating the new crossing, to avoid clashing with local zoning and environmental restrictions.

Sups Ban Talk About Property Planning Items

If you have a problem with a special use permit or rezoning of your property that requires a hearing before the County Planning Commission and you would like to call your County Supervisor and discuss the problem — don't. It's against the law.

Members of the Board of Supervisors, the Planning Commission, Board of Planning and Zoning Appeals and the Zoning Administrator are under strict guidelines from the Administrative Code, Section 375, not to discuss planning and zoning matters that require a public hearing.

Members of the various boards and commissions are not allowed to discuss the subject of these hearings with opponents, proponents, interested parties, or themselves until the hearing.

Board members are required to disclose any unsolicited mail or any information they receive on a matter slated for public hearing.

Any member of the various boards and commissions which are involved with the public hearing process for planning and zoning matters who fail to disclose that they have received information on the subject of a hearing other than the actual hearing notice are subject to a $500 fine or six months in jail or both.

Exceptions to the law involve discussion of matters that will have broad application throughout the county such as major general plan proposals or proposed amendments to the Zoning Ordinance that would have a general effect throughout the unincorporated areas of the county.

The ordinance was enacted by the Board of Supervisors December 16, 1976.

Auto Gas Usage Sets Record

966.7 million gallons of gasoline was used in March by California motorists, exceeding the former all-time high month of August, 1973 by more than 31.6 million gallons.

March gallonage was 7.7 per cent higher than in March of last year, registering an enormous increase of 17.7 per cent over the preceding month of February.

Gasoline distribution data show taxable sales by distributors to retail outlets, brokers, and certain other distributors. Refiners, importers, and wholesale distributors pay 7-cents-per-gallon tax on their distribution to retailers. The State Board of Equalization administers that fuel tax.

California's March revenue from that tax was $87.6 million, a sizeable increase of $10.1 million over February, and up $4.8 million from March, 1976.

You've Been Subpoenaed —No Reason to Panic

By Edwin L. Miller, Jr.
District Attorney

Recently, a 13-year-old boy and his father sat in the back of a courtroom and watched a preliminary hearing in which the young man's friend was the defendant charged with burglary.

The youngster had been subpoenaed to testify but he was never called to the witness stand by the Deputy District Attorney.

After the friend had been bound over for trial in Superior Court, the youngster told his father that it had been a "wasted afternoon" since he didn't have to testify. The father passed the remark on to my deputy.

There is no simple rebuttal to the young man's statement and, perhaps, for him it was an irritation. However, for hundreds of other citizens who are subpoenaed and become involved in the criminal justice system, I hope it is not a wasted effort.

Not Intentional

I know and each of my deputies know that time is valuable and witnesses have other things that they would rather be doing. Every effort is made to make participation in our system easier.

Frequently, witnesses wonder why they must testify after they have already made a statement to the police. Simply, the law requires that witnesses appear in court and answer questions from both sides.

Sometimes witnesses believe that they know so little about the case that they should not be called. But even if it be a small bit of information, the attorneys who handle the case will know whether it is necessary. If testimony were not important, the witness would not be called.

If subpoenaed to court, make sure you appear as directed. A subpoena is an order of the court which is enforced by the court. If the subpoena contains a note requesting that you call the attorney, doing so will save time.

The person accused of the crime is called the defendant.

The Arraignment

If the defendant is in custody, the judge will bring the defendant before the court within 48 hours to explain the charges to the defendant and the defendant's rights. This is called an arraignment. The judge sets bail and sees that the defendant is represented by an attorney. The arraignment will be later if the defendant is already on bail.

Witnesses do not have to be present at the arraignment. The Constitution of the U. S. guarantees each defendant a reasonable bail. In setting the amount and type of bail, the judge only considers the charge and whether the defendant might flee.

A defendant in a criminal case has a defense attorney to represent him.

The People are represented by the District Attorney. The deputy D.A. assigned to prosecute criminal cases needs patience and cooperation. He, in turn, will do his best to ensure that you, as a witness, are treated with respect and consideration.

The preliminary hearing is usually the first scheduled courtroom date which requires the appearance of a witness. Like the 13-year-old who appeared with his father, there is a possibility a witness might not testify at that time. Normally, however, all subpoenaed witnesses do testify.

Preliminary Hearing

The preliminary hearing is scheduled before a judge to determine whether or not there is sufficient admissible evidence to bring the defendant to trial in Superior Court.

The second scheduled court appearance which requires witnesses to be subpoenaed is the trial.

In a trial, the deputy district attorney presents the case for the state. This means you. The defendant may present his side through a defense attorney.

Two Types

There are two kinds of trials—jury trials and court trials.

In a court trial, the defendant has waived the right to have a jury. The judge decides the facts as well as the law and whether the defendant is guilty.

In a jury trial, 12 jurors determine whether to convict or acquit the defendant. All twelve jurors must agree that the defendant is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt in order to convict that person. If all twelve agree the defendant is not guilty, the defendant is acquitted and allowed to go free.

If the jurors, talking together in the closed jury room, cannot all agree on conviction or acquittal, there may be a new trial.

As a witness for the state, the person subpoenaed will be questioned by the deputy district attorney and then the defendant's attorney. As a witness for the defense, the rotation of questions will be reversed.

A witness may feel during the questioning that the testimony is under suspicion or that personal motives are doubted. But the process of cross-examination is not meant as a personal attack. It is to ensure that all sides of the case are told and to establish the truth.

The other segments of the process—from arrest to sentencing—do not normally require citizen participation.

The System

Still, the question is asked whether the system is beneficial to the citizen.

The process of justice takes time—from many people. It often seems tedious, frustrating and disappointing. Some of the delays and frustrations encountered by victims and witnesses are attributable to our American judicial system. But, remember, in our country every person is presumed innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

To protect this right, we have a system of justice filled with many painstaking steps. The system depends on the patience and commitment of all citizens to make it work.

I hope that one of the delays built into the system will make anyone give up on this system. The greatest tragedy of all is when a victim or witness drops out — for that truly is "a wasted afternoon."

BoA Bank Card Billing Up 22%

Bank of America has reported that its bank card billings in California rose 22.0 per cent during the first quarter of 1977, compared to the same quarter last year.

The billings include purchases made by some of the more than 500,000 Master Charge cardholders signed up by the bank between February 15 and March 31. Since last fall, when BoFA joined Interbank Card Assn., it has signed up more than 25,000 Master Charge merchants.

Total bank card sales for the BankAmericard and Master Charge systems administered by BoFA was $566,983,746, up from $464,643,915 in the first quarter last year.

Outstanding balances increased 17.6 per cent in the first quarter, compared to a year earlier, while the number of cardholders rose 8.1 per cent and the number of merchants rose 4.9 per cent.

DA Ed Miller's 10 Commandments For Witnesses

1. TELL THE TRUTH. In a criminal case, as in all other matters, honesty comes first. Telling the truth, however, means more than refraining from telling a deliberate falsehood. Telling the truth requires that a witness testify accurately about what he knows.

2. DON'T GUESS. If you don't know, say you don't know.

3. BE SURE THAT YOU UNDERSTAND THE QUESTIONS ASKED. You cannot possibly give a truthful and accurate answer unless you understand the question. If you don't understand the question, ask the lawyer to repeat it. He will probably ask the court reporter to read it back.

4. TAKE YOUR TIME AND ANSWER THE QUESTIONS ASKED. Give the question such thought as is required to understand it, formulate your response and then give your answer. If you can answer the question yes or no, do so.

5. GIVE A LOUD, AUDIBLE ANSWER. Everything you say is being recorded. Don't nod your head yes or no.

6. DON'T LOOK FOR ASSISTANCE WHEN YOU'RE ON THE STAND. If you think you need help, request to speak to the judge.

7. BEWARE OF QUESTIONS INVOLVING DISTANCES AND TIMES. If you make an estimate, make sure that everyone understands that you are estimating.

8. BE COURTEOUS. Be sure to answer "yes, sir" and "no, sir," and to address the Judge as "Your Honor." Don't lose your temper.

9. IF ASKED WHETHER YOU HAVE TALKED TO THE LAWYER ON YOUR SIDE, OR TO AN INVESTIGATOR, ADMIT IT FREELY IF YOU HAVE DONE SO.

10. AVOID JOKING AND WISE CRACKS. A criminal case is a serious matter. Smart talk or evasive answers may jeopardize the case.

The NBC-owned "Shari Show" is syndicated nationally and around the world by 20th Century Fox. It revolves around a TV station run entirely by puppets and its owner—Mr. Beary of Beary Broadcasting.

Shari's achievements include two command performances—at the London Palladium and at Buckingham Palace. In 1973, she received the Humanitarian of the Year Award in Washington, D.C. for her work in scouting as a troop leader in Beverly Hills and for participating in international girl scouting.

R. R. Richardson, president of the Expo's Board of Directors said that to his knowledge this will be the first grandstand performer who "will delight not only the very young, but also the young at heart."

Shari's shows will be at 8 p.m.

during the meeting May 18, the highest turnover rate for the three shifts at Grossmont was the night or 11:30 p.m. to 7:30 a.m. shift.

According to studies done by Ron Cilbertson, the Grossmont Director of Employment Relations, the absentee rate was highest on the night shift.

Cilbertson found a 54 per cent turnover rate of nurses on the early morning shift, compared to a 42 per cent turnover rate on the P.M., and a 39 per cent turnover on the day.

The report also showed a sick leave absentee factor for the night shift to be calculated at 1.8 for the night, 1.16 for the P.M., and .77 for the day. Based on these statistics, the Board of Trustees passed a 20 cent shift differential for the night shift and denied by a 3-2 vote the 12 1/2 cent pay increase for the P.M. shift.

"We must move slowly in granting additional increases until there is adequate justification," Grossmont Hospital Administrator Ron Dahlgren told the Board May 18.

Yet the P.M. nurses continued to maintain they had been slighted by the Board's decision.

"A nurse makes less money than your average grocer," said Gay Muhich. "All other hospital in the area give it (the differential). It's not something out of the ordinary."

California's State Employment offices in San Diego County made a total of 2,246 job placements in April, it was reported by the Employment Development Department (EDD). This was a 12.6 per cent decrease over the March placement total of 2,571 but a 20.2 per cent increase over the number placed in April 1976, which was 1,869.

In the fiscal year to date (October through April), EDD has made 15,182 placements, compared with 11,575 placements in the same period a year earlier. This represents an increase of 31.2 per cent.

Sheriff Duffy's June 9 Banquet To Fete Younger

Attorney General Evelle J. Younger will be honored by San Diego County citizens at a June 9 dinner dance at the Vacation Village Hotel, according to Sheriff John F. Duffy, Chairman of the event.

"This is going to be a 'fun-raiser', not a fund-raiser, and it is probably the last chance we will have to thank him for his service as Attorney General," Duffy said.

Younger has announced he will not seek re-election as Attorney General, but will seek the Republican nomination for governor in 1978.

Sheriff Duffy said a number of co-chairmen from throughout the county, including Lemon Grove publisher Max Goodwin and La Mesa attorney Ed Mees, the former executive secretary to Governor Reagan, are working on the dinner and sending out invitations to interested citizens.

"The price of the ticket is just enough to cover the cost of the dinner at the hotel. What we want is a good turnout for this non-partisan, non-political, non-fund-raising event," Duffy said.

The sheriff said a number of plaques, certificates, and mementos "some serious and some ridiculous" will be presented at the event.

"The attorney general will be both toasted and roasted," promised Duffy.

Many of the presentations will come from judges, prosecutors, defenders, law enforcement officials and others involved in the criminal justice system.

Invitations can be arranged by contacting any of the co-chairmen or by calling Lindy Woodward at 274-5363.

Mail Bag

Bottle's Other Side

Dear Editor:

In a recent article you carried results of a survey conducted by the California Public Interest Research Group (CALPIRG) which revealed that "consumers can save up to three times the amount they spend on soft drink by buying their soda in returnable bottles."

This, of course, assumes that the consumer will return the bottle and reclaim his deposit. This is highly debatable as many surveys have found. CALPIRG and other environmental groups use statistics which indicate lower prices for returnables to justify their movement for a "Bottle Bill" to eliminate non-returnables.

In reality, a "Bottle Bill" would raise prices — not lower them. An even basic knowledge of economics will substantiate this fact.

For instance, California's own legislative analyst (A. Alan Post) has reported that a "Bottle Bill" would force industry to expend $150 to $320 million to convert to a returnable system. Furthermore, he forecasted the annual loss of net profits before taxes to range from $90 to $200 million.

Now, if industry must pay millions to convert and lose millions in profits in the process — does anyone believe they will not raise prices to absorb the loss? Add to this increased operating costs to handle returnables as such: increased transportation needs and fuel usage; more warehouse space and less productivity per man hour on the production line.

Be assured prices will rise — not decrease. All the environmentalist surveys in the world will not offset the rising costs to the consumer.

Sincerely yours,
John Gallagher

Fair Trial, Free Press Equal Under Constitution

Dear Editor:

Last week, the Assembly Judiciary Committee approved legislation designed to prevent the future jailing of newsmen who refuse to reveal the names of their confidential sources.

The measure, Assembly Constitutional Amendment 4, is important because of the inroads the Courts have made into the existing Newsman's Shield Law. Judges have ruled that when their constitutional right to control proceedings in their own Courts comes into conflict with the statutory right of newsmen to refuse to reveal their confidential sources, the latter must give way. At the committee hearing, Judicial Council spokesman Jack Horton echoed this sentiment by saying that the right to a fair trial is more fundamental than a free press.

I believe this is a dangerous attitude. Without constitutional protection (as opposed to mere statutory protection) further inroads into the Newsman's Shield Law can be expected. Equal consideration must be given to the constitutional rights of a fair trial and a free press. That is the essence of ACA 4.

The Legislature must provide guarantees so that the free flow of information to the public is not inhibited. The judicially-created exceptions to the current Newsman's Shield Law are threatening that right.

Sincerely,
JERRY LEWIS
Assemblyman,
Sixty-Seventh District

U.S. Senate Passes Earthquake Measure

The U.S. Senate has unanimously passed and sent to the House a bill by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., which will greatly step up research over the next three years into earthquake prediction.

Sen. S. I. Hayakawa, R-Calif., was among the other sponsors of the bill which would appropriate a total of $205 million to "push rapidly ahead on research that should one day enable us to predict accurately when and where an earthquake will occur — and give us time to save lives and protect property as much as possible."

Health Dept. Issues

Annual Mussel Notice

The San Diego County Department of Health has again issued its six month quarantine of mussels. The department puts out the health advisory each summer to guard against shellfish poisoning.

Dr. John R. Philip, director of the health department, said the annual quarantine of mussels lasts from May 1 to October 31.

"Shellfish poisoning becomes a health hazard in warmer months because tiny organisms called Gonyaulax catenella, which mussels feed upon, multiply rapidly," Philip said. "The organisms become so numerous they impart a reddish-brown color to the sea, called the 'red tide'."

The doctor said these micro-organisms produce a poison which becomes concentrated in the glands and muscle tissue of shellfish.

"If mussels with concentrations of the poison are eaten, the toxin can affect the central nervous system of a person within a few minutes to a few hours," the Doctor added. "In cases of severe poisoning, complete muscular paralysis occurs and the victim dies. There is no known antidote."

Increase Urged For School Aid To Viet Vets

A five per cent increase in monthly allowances for veterans and service personnel training under the Vietnam Era GI Bill has been recommended to Congress by the Veterans Administration.

Max Cleland, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, said the increase would also apply to the VA's educational assistance programs for dependents of veterans.

The Administration-proposed increase would become effective October 1, 1977, one year from the date of the last increase. Cleland noted the proposed increase would raise the monthly allowance to $307 for a single veteran taking full time training. A married veteran without children would receive $364 per month under the proposal, and a veteran with a wife and one child would receive $416 per month.

In another move to aid GI Bill trainees, Cleland said the present Administration was reversing a decision by the former VA head and the prior Administration seeking to end the VA's education loan program.

The VA was asking Congress to continue the program under which the number of education loans to veterans has nearly doubled in the last year.

Termination of the veteran-student loan program, providing low interest, direct federal loans for normal academic year, had been recommended by the prior Administration in draft legislation submitted to Congress January 19, 1977.

Helix Water Use Drops 11% During April-May

The Helix Water District is reporting an 11 per cent reduction in the use of water for the April 1-May 23 recording period.

General Manager Clarence Watters told the Helix Water Board, area residents used about 500 million gallons less water during the period this year than they did in the same period of 1976.

The water district asked consumers to cut back 10 per cent on their water use and Watters said the 11 per cent reduction was an "encouraging sign."

Water district engineer Joe Grey said during the seven week period, area residents used 4,563 acre feet or about 1 1/2 billion gallons of water. During the same period in 1976, area residents used some 5,071 acre feet or about 1.6 billion gallons.

According to the engineer, the period is a "slack period" for water use and water districts usually store the surplus up for the upcoming hot summer months.

IRS Shakes Business On Confusing Forms

LOS ANGELES — The Internal Revenue Service is checking out some 3,000 Southern California small business firms regarding the possible nonfiling of Federal Unemployment Tax Returns, form 940.

W. H. Connett, IRS district director for Southern California, said all employers are required to file the complex forms if they have employed "one or more employees for some portion of at least one day during each of 20 different calendar weeks."

"The IRS recognizes that most businesses conscientiously comply with the tax laws," Connett said; "however, because these laws are complex, some employers may not be fully aware of all the tax requirements that apply to their individual situations."

Environment Review Fees Boosted by Sups

As a result of a cost/revenue study of the environmental review process, the San Diego County Board of Supervisors has adopted an ordinance that restructures the fees charged for environmental review studies affecting proposed development in the unincorporated areas of the county.

The new fee study schedule, according to a County report, was coordinated with the County Auditor and Controller's office, the Office of Management and Budget and representatives of the building industry. All parties to the coordination meetings expressed support for the fee schedule, according to the report.

The new fee schedule will increase the cost of an initial study to $125. Most environmental impact reviews will require a deposit of $1,750 with the exception of special use permits which will require a $2,000 deposit and specific plans for large scale projects which will require a $3,225 deposit.

The new fee schedule is designed mostly for developers to ensure that applicants will pay for the cost of processing the various documents. The new schedule is comparable with other jurisdictions for equivalent services, according to the report.

Under the new ordinance, which takes effect June 9, anyone requiring an Environmental Initial Study will be required to pay a fixed fee. However, if an Environmental Impact Report is required the applicant must deposit a specified sum in a special trust fund to be established by the County's Community Services Agency.

If the cost of the study exceeds the amount of the deposit, the County will demand the payment of the amount estimated to finish the study. Likewise, if the cost of the study is less than the deposit, the County will refund the difference to the applicant.
